BETTER LETTER

A painted greeting is all well and good, but metal letters really make a statement—especially when paired with an unexpected floral element. This beauty is as simple as paint a pallet, glue on letters, enjoy! (We formed our “O” from a blossom spray.)

FRAME THAT NAME

DIY-ready wood pallets are perfect for those times you want the crafted-with-love look rather than the found-on-aisle-four look. Here, we painted the pallet, stenciled and painted the initial, and finished with the hand-lettered name.

BUCKET BLISS

Think outside the wreath when it comes to door decor. This arrangement starts with floral foam in a half bucket—yep, it comes like you see it. Then just add your favorite flowers and greenery, tie on a bow, and hang the bucket on a framed pallet.

SIGN & DANDY

This cozy-corner essential is a three-layer work of art:

- 1) slatted wood pallet, 2) whitewashed wood pallet, 3) "thankful" wood sign. For extra texture (and extra style points), we made our own pom-pom and bead garlands.

ABOUT TIME

With a clock motor and hands, nearly anything can become a timepiece. And with our love of decorating with pallets, it only made sense to DIY one out of a wood round, wood numbers and chipboard letters. (We painted the wood pieces and colored the letters with marker.)

TOUCH OF GLASS

The back piece of this nautical mirror is a square pallet that comes like you see it. But we made the frame around the mirror by cutting four wood slats at 45-degree angles to form a square. We topped it with braided jute and decorative tacks to round out the seafarer vibe.

ON THE SLOT

The base of this farmhouse-style catchall is a framed pallet, and we added the front and side pieces (cut from individual wood slats) to form the basket. Side slats: 8 1/2" tall, 1 1/4" wide (at bottom), 2 1/2" wide (at top). Front slats: 12 5/16" and 12 9/16".
