

Spirit of Style

Discover what's possible with Poetic Spirit™ jewelry pieces!

HOBBY LOBBY®

ON THE COVER:

Bracelets: Going for southwest style? Turquoise charms, beads and pendants are a rock-solid choice! Necklace: This chains-and-charms piece is a single tassel pendant.

Heart & Soul

This cowhide heart pendant comes readymade with the faceted bead and imitation turquoise stone. Want to mimic the look? Connect the pendant to a pair of bead strands attached to leather lace.

On the Fringe

Tassel pendants paired with crackled clay beads and a starburst connector charm give this deerskin lace necklace its boho vibe.

Tip: When you're working with thicker cording (like leather), you can expand the size of a bead hole with a reamer tool.

Play by Ear

Try mixing textures and materials to create eclectic combinations. These three-piece beauties feature a round wooden earring, a patina pendant and a metal cactus charm (all held together with jump rings).

Hoop & Holler

No jumping through hoops to create this pair of earrings! These beaded pendants come readymade and in packs of two. So all you need to do is add the gold earwires.

All Ears

The simplest handmade earrings can also be the most stylish! Just layer a couple readymade pendants (like we did for the pair on the left) or combine them with coordinating beads (like we did for the pair on the right).

Beaded Bliss

A teardrop-studded concho pendant adds subtle southwestern flair to this DIY necklace. You can emphasize its pink tones with matching jasper beads. Design Idea:

Try stacking daisy spacer beads to imitate a textured, chunky chain.

From the Heart

New to jewelry making? This one-step bracelet is a perfect beginner project! The slider bracelet comes readymade (and in a multicolored five-pack), so the hardest part is picking out a pendant, like this offset heart.

Red Alert!

DIY-ing a cohesive set of jewelry is easy with Poetic Spirit™ pieces. Bracelet: Punch a second hole at the bottom of a cactus pendant and attach bead strands with crimp beads. Earrings: Connect howlite charms to links from a paperclip chain and then to earwires.

Glowing Colors

This cactus charm combo—one gold and one beaded—gives our handmade pendant necklace plenty of quirky charm. To recreate the look, pair the charms with a playful mix of multicolored stone beads and round metal beads.
