HOBBY LOBBY®

TO THE LETTER

Add a hands-on element to teaching the alphabet with these adorable felt letters.

To mimic our design, cut a front and back piece for each letter. Then sew them together, adding stuffing as you go, and stitch or glue on felt flowers and other decorations.

SLICE OF LIFE

Kiddos are sure to make quick work of fractions if there's pizza involved! This felt pie features stuffed crust (polyester fiber, not cheese!) and removable layers and toppings (thanks, hook-and-loop squares).

Keep scrolling for all the templates you'll need to create this pizza.

SPIN AROUND

Come rain or shine, welcome the day with this rotating felt weather wheel! One bright idea: Have your students help cut out the felt shapes that represent the various kinds of weather. And don't forget to add a color-coded felt thermometer at the bottom (templates ahead!).

Position weather wheel onto background, aligning eyelet with screw post.

STEP 4

Add screw post cap to screw post to secure wheel in place.

WHAT A MATCH

Here's an interactive matching game that will boost your students' memory skills. You can pick any theme (like woodland creatures) and go! Use scissors or a cutting machine to make the pieces, glue everything together, and add decorative stitching around the edges.

ON THE COVER:

Celebrate your students' achievements with glitzy felt medals! Cut and layer felt and glitter fabric. Then embroider words of encouragement, and glue a safety pin to the back.

Check out our free templates for these pencil pals!

TOP THAT!

These felt pencil toppers make writing assignments (or grading them) that much more fun!

Cut two body pieces, place wrong sides together, and sew a rectangular pocket at the bottom for the pencil. Then glue the pieces together and add embellishments.

BAG IT UP

The sweetest part about these fresh-and-fruity felt pouches:

There's no sewing required (the embroidery is optional)! Cut four half-circles, gluing two together for each side. Adhere felt designs to the sides and glue in a zipper. Then glue along the rounded edges to close.

ALL IN PLACE

Felt comes in more than just solid shades—there are dozens of trendy patterns and styles to choose from! For our wall organizer, we cut pockets from vibrant fabrics (like leopard felt and iridescent mesh) and secured them with felt glue.

Tip: Use a dowel and cord for hanging.
