DESIGNED TO IMPRESS!

Gift of Thyme

Going green? Forego disposable gift wrap in favor of arranging a gardening gift set (DIY plant labels made from air-dry clay, mini terra cotta pots & more) in a large glass canister—a big green thumbs-up.

On the Cover: Make homemade potpourri look as good as it smells by adding DIY vinyl labels and spray painting the lids.

Top Dog

Create a treat for pets and pet parents alike by personalizing a corked glass jar with adhesive vinyl lettering and etching cream. Then make a showstopper topper out of cardstock, fabric and ribbon.

Welcome Home

A curated kitchen set can help make a house feel like a home! Choose an assortment of treats in stylish, reusable glass containers (here, a measuring cup, ribbed jars, mason jars and a handled jar with a wooden spoon).

Perfect Match

Eliminate the annual rummage-through-drawers birthday candle search with an always-ready set of candles and matches. Just decorate cylinder glass jars and place them in a DIY holder made out of cardstock, fabric and ribbon.

Jam Packed

Assemble matching jam jars for a gift worth preserving! Their rustic look comes courtesy of stamped wood labels glued to fabric rounds. A wooden spoon, suede lace and DIY wood shelf completes the country-chic set.

Personalize the mug cozy with a leather tag and an alphabet patch.

Tea Time

Glass is a great option when you're gifting edible—or in this case, drinkable—goodies. For this tea set, the 2oz glass jars and the milk bottle keep items sealed and fresh and the trendy glass mug keeps them stylish.

Seal Team

Add an elegant touch to correspondence with a wax seal kit. Fill mini glass jars with wax beads and embellish them with ribbon and wax seals. Complete the gift with stamps and a warming spoon nestled into a stained decorative box (found on the unfinished wood craft aisle).
